Call for Abstracts

The PHONZ Steering Committee welcomes submission of abstracts for our third annual Conference, 24-25 July 2024. We're looking for abstracts that will fit the three 'themes' of the conference:

- 'Bad science, bad evidence' – presentations should relate to how flawed or dishonest research methods can impact public health efforts.
- 'Future challenges for health intelligence' – presentations should involve future challenges (or opportunities) that the public health sector will face as new technologies and methods develop.
- 'Tales from the trenches' – this is an open category for presentations relating to any aspect of public health intelligence.

When you submit an abstract, you will need to provide:

- Presenter's name and organisation/affiliation
- Contact email
- Working title of your presentation
- The abstract itself
